Unleash the Unstoppable You!

Ready to take on the world? Or, like most of us, do you have a little annoying thing in the back of your head that holds you back?

This talk brings humor and light to deep issues as I work with your audience to identify and accept their insecurity. Not even that, they will learn how to turn it into their superpower.

This talk is engaging, humorous, and set with actionable takeaways that your audience can get started on that day.

Leaning into the heart of my message to Own Your Awkward, I will bring stories from my journey and of others in order to highlight the amazing power behind embracing your authentic self.

This is perfect for personal development, team building, and breaking down the barriers to trust in an organization.

Unleash the Unstoppable You!

Key Takeaways:

- Begin shifting your view to see the value in the things you are self-conscious about
- Learn new ways to approach uncomfortable situations with empowering tools to reframe what you bring to the conversation
- Eliminate hours of worrying and overthinking wasted on situations and events outside of your control
- Leave refreshed, entertained, and motivated to take on challenges with a new attitude
