

Ashley Taylor, CPA

People Developer

ashleyftaylor.com
ashleyftaylorcpa@gmail.com
682-227-5581

Ashley leaves a lasting impression when she speaks. I liked how she brought humor and interest to a difficult topic.

SHRM Fort Worth attendee

Speaking Topics

Don't Fear the Storm

Develop skills to keep "what if" from messing with "what is". More than deep breaths and positive thinking, approach problems in spite of fear.

Helping Isn't Helpful

Learn why it is often not helpful to be a helper. Assess your interaction style to identify where co-dependency is limiting your success in both personal and business relationships.

Bio

Sharing a different approach to facing challenges via speaking engagements and workshop facilitation.

CPA, VP, Six Sigma Yellow belt, mother of 3, yoga teacher, volunteer, serial class taker and book reader sharing lessons learned through 25 years of wins and losses to provide clear steps to developing healthy relationships.

You only have the power to change yourself. You must see yourself, not the other person, as the problem. To see another person as the problem to be fixed is to give that person power over you and your well-being. - Dr. Henry Cloud

Offerings and Rates (including travel & expenses)

Small Group Talk

$350 - $850

Workshops

$1,750 - $4,500

Mentorship

Varies